DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 1-25 are generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising cationic silicones and scavenging agents. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species of a silicone and of a scavenging agent, even though this requirement is traversed.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

2. During a telephone conversation with Ms. Laura Grunzinger on July 7, 2005 a provisional election was made without traverse to prosecute the invention of the silicones of claim 14 and cationic scavenger 4 of claim 18, claims 1-25. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. No claims were withdrawn from consideration but, as the elected scavenger was found obvious, search and examination beyond that scavenger was not undertaken.

3. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

5. Claims 1-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for the structurants of claim 17 and the cationic scavengers of claim 18, does not reasonably provide enablement for any and all materials which may be construed as structuring agents or cationic scavenging agents. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make or use the invention commensurate in scope with these claims. The examiner recommends inserting the limitations of claims 17 and 18 into the independent claim(s) to overcome this rejection.

6. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

7. Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 5 is garbled, and it recites a premix which lacks antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

10. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

11. Claims 1-10 and 17-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over EP 150,872. See Example IV on p. 17. While the exemplified silicone is not quatted, it would have been obvious at the time that the invention was made to have quatted the exemplified silicone prior to addition, because the reference teaches at the bottom of p. 9 that this may be done. Use to launder fabric is disclosed throughout the reference. Regarding claim 25, the order of addition of disclosed ingredients is not patentable in the absence of unexpected results.

Allowable Subject Matter

12. Claims 11-16 would be allowable if written in independent form, incorporating the limitations of the independent claim, provided that the enablement rejection were overcome and the scavenger were limited to the elected species.

13. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The closest prior art of record is the EP relied upon above. This reference does not disclose or motivate the use of silicones as recited in these claims. The recited silicones are disclosed in WO 02/18528, but the examiner does not find motivation to incorporate those silicones into the compositions of the EP. The WO does not disclose or motivate the use of anionic emulsifiers, so it is not a 103 or 102 reference.

14. Any prior art made of record and not relied upon is of interest and is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
